

Become an Accredited Sound Healer

New Practitioner Training Course Starting Soon!

Scientific research has shown that certain sound frequencies help to speed up the body's natural healing processes. Sound healers use sound therapeutically to relieve pain, promote deep relaxation, and increase positive thought patterns.

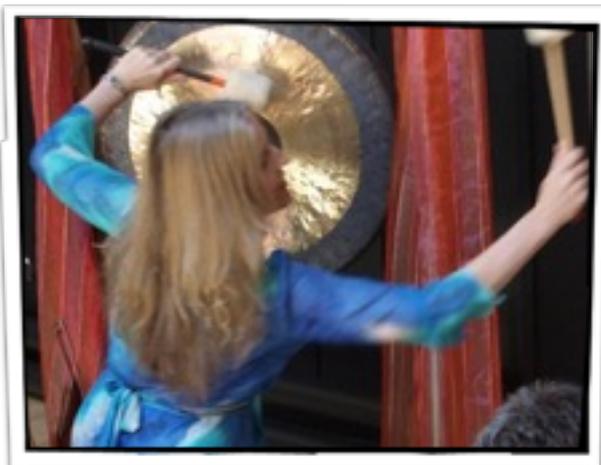

Keen to learn how to use sound to enhance your own well-being and give sound healing treatments? Then The College of Sound Healing's CMA-accredited Practitioner Training could be the course for you. No previous musical experience required!

The experiential course covers both theory and practical application. Learn how to give treatments using the voice, tuning forks, musical intervals, Sanskrit sounds and mantras. Completion of the course* enables you to become a Sound Healing Practitioner as a member of The College of Sound Healing.

One of the best learning experiences

I have ever undertaken... Sarah encouraged and allowed us to be in tune with ourselves and develop our intuition for healing. This was all done in a safe and respectful environment. You need to experience the course to understand how profoundly sound affects us on every level.

Kirsty Struthers, Course Participant

Dates: (Sat 10am-5pm / Sun 10am-4pm)

25 - 26 Nov 2017: An Introduction to Sound Healing

27 - 28 Jan 2018: Theory & Practice

21 - 22 Apr 2018: Music as Medicine

7 - 8 Jul 2018: Sound Healing Through the Chakras

13 - 14 Oct 2018: Graduation Weekend

Venue: Newbold House, 111 St Leonards Rd, Forres, Moray, IV36 2RE

Cost: £185 per weekend, non-residential.

Instructor - Sarah Perricone: Before training as a sound healer, Sarah worked nationally and internationally as a professional violinist. She is a qualified tutor for The College of Sound Healing and runs Practitioner Trainings across Scotland. Sarah is also a clinical hypnotherapist and has worked with a diverse range of individuals and organisations, including the NHS and The Royal Conservatoire of Scotland.

Sarah's skills are remarkable and will give you an insight into the transformative power of sound.

Stephen, Course Participant

To book or for further details: www.collegeofsoundhealing.co.uk or sarahperricone@gmail.com 07940 891 715